Easy installation and ease of use

The Quantis QE600 is designed with ease of use in mind. Connect the stick to the HDMI port of your TV and the wall socket and connect the stick to your Wi-Fi network. Sign in with your Google account, and within minutes you'll have access to a world of entertainment. No hassle with complicated installation processes; plug and play.

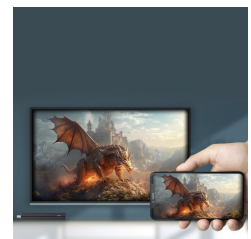

4K UHD razor-sharp image quality

The QE600 supports high-resolution streaming. 4K UHD ensures a razor-sharp image and vivid colors. Whether you watch a movie or play a game, you always enjoy the best quality. Moreover, the stick's powerful processor ensures smooth performance.

Remote control with Google Assistant

With the Bluetooth remote control you can operate the TV as you normally would. You have direct access to frequently used apps via the preference keys. The numeric keys are extra handy so you can easily switch between channels. Thanks to the integration with Google Assistant, you can easily give commands to open apps or search for content with your voice.

Built-in Chromecast

Stream sporting events, music videos and other content directly from your smartphone or tablet. With apps that support Chromecast built-in, you can cast your favorite content directly to your TV.
